Head of the Department	Message
 Prof. Sagar Belgaonkar M. Tech, (Ph. D)	Welcome to the Department of Civil Engineering. We as a department are dedicated to disseminating knowledge across the broad fields of civil engineering. Our aim is to educate students in the capacity to analyse, design and interpret outcomes of specific domain to inculcate professional competence, personal and interpersonal skills to groom students to become globally competent. The department adopts outcome based education [OBE] concept and follows Choice Based Credit System [CBCS] in its teaching –learning-evaluation process. Our department houses three dynamic divisions: Undergraduate, Post Graduate and Research centre, which explores the interplay between Technical, Practical, experiential, collaborative teaching and learning experiences, which prepares students for careers in broad fields of civil engineering. The dedication of our faculty and the enthusiasm of our students continue to inspire me as head of this vibrant department. Our collective effort to educate students who are prepared to engage with society effectively and succeed in their professional endeavours makes me proud. I encourage you to explore our Department and discover the diverse educational opportunities that are available to both undergraduate and graduate students. If you want to get closer to our departmental pursuits or have any inquiries about our initiatives, feel comfortable
